

Chapter 10

Oh no not again

i get a text from the librarian 4 years after are split up. Now I don't forget that tornado of bad behavior and poor life skills , but I'm told a story almost too good to believe. She's doing good, clean and living in one of her dad's 5 properties and she needs my help to fix them up . I can't do everything alone for sure but I'll learn and she's well aware I'm broke. She of course what's sex but I keep that door closed this time just to keep my sanity. I haven't gotten a letter from dhhs division of child support services in months because Ann's mom I'm sure was throwing away my mail or Ann was out of uncomfortable rage. But I told the librarian to give me a month to save up and I'll drive down in November over the mountains on my scooter. I tell TJ Maxx to transfer me over, I'm told I don't get 19.75 but 17.75 I definitely hesitate but I will be rent free and the illusion is still real. Before I went I went camping but this had to have been in the summer or fall so linear? No, but it feels like just before I left but being locked in a room hiding distorted reality just to go to a cult to not clean a floor that I loved. I put up a post all invited to go with me , now everyone fears Ann , she will come at you and not everyone knows martial arts. So my ex wife was all like we haven't talked in over a year but there's a party that weekend and I'm dumping the kids on you to get fucked up and try to get a other child support check for an Asian guy this time, she also has a half black kid at this point. Now I never met my son and he's a complete winey moms boy , which is fine I guess I don't care but you going to get beat up . This story is a doozy for sure. Now we go pick up my friend drew who we talked about a while back , he is in here just on weekend trips to his house on an island for a weekend get away with Trista, librarian and Ann. He really is great just crazy. Joe and Jessica are team ex wife because my ex wife uses Jesus to take money and donations from the church so they get along great. But we get drew then we get kids and we go to Ann's house, now my boss at planet fitness... ok, time lines fixed... didn't give me that day off so they all spent the night at Ann's house, but I told Ann and drew here 500$ go get groceries for everyone and you know what happened, there were no groceries , there was an action figure and subway, when they went to go to Ann's house to wait Ann's mom claims that the 2 kids where going to kidnap her , take her to Vietnam and get Ransom money, how do like little kids even? So they waited at planet fitness for me and my boss is upset there in the lobby , and I'm like I told you for a month I needed a 3 day weekend and you didn't do it. So I went home early and stayed at Ann's house that night and Ann's mom gave everyone soup , but not just a soup 4 soup each , and I'm the only one who would eat it. So all over the room where bowls of soup and kids and fighting and tears and finally sleep. Then 1 day of driving to the North side of mt saint Helens . Water falls , rivers , greens and animals. Those kids I don't think ever really left the house because she fake homeschools them and where completely brainwashed into her fake version of Jesus and other things, like the girl talking about getting pregnant at 16 for government assistance, wow sounds like a winning parent, so I let them play with sharp things and fire and no one got hurt everyone basically got a long , magically the girl made friends and the boy cried and cried and cried . But he better man up because I'm not driving 6 hours because you miss mom. Ann was high as can be and Drew was having a blast. I was too . Then we went back to Ann's house to drop off some stuff to make more room in the car as she lived closer then drew or the kids when Ann's mom starts circling the car claiming we are refusing to say hi to her while I'm unloading . The kids tell me they don't ever want to come back she's scary and I fully understand, this is not a kid friendly environment, just like where they live now. I'm sure this was the last time I ever saw them in person.

Ok so back to linear story time. I told Ann and her mom I'm leaving despite the risk of prison from child support and I started my drive , I shipped some of my things and left a lot of stuff with my mom, a literal truck load. That 3 and a half days was absolutely horrible, my back was killing me and it was freezing, literally ice and snow just off the roads with a fully loaded scooter you'd be on the ground in no time but I stopped in Oregon for a night, then California, then hit Vegas and I felt like I never wanted to ride again , there was even snow in vegas, I got there and it was still cold. This house was trashed, I have a video of it online. But here I did lose weight working out in the bathroom with hot water and a heater , but never cooked shrimp. I was kinda fat from the stress of constant violence. I started working on the house the day after I arrived, the librarian had better skin but gained a lot of her weight back. So I trusted she was not lying about her life choices. She was breaking up with her boyfriend at the time and I started TJ Maxx and started riding a bike with her. This is how it got weird, the bike group was a bunch of kinda out of shape people who would smoke and drink. I was ready for a race of some kind. It was not a race but it was exercise I needed and appreciated. I think it was the second bike ride I was told I was going to a gay bar with her friend John and I wasn't thrilled but I was promised a possible trans girlfriend. It hit me I was single for sure and I had just changed my address so dshs was sending a letter soon to remind me I'm not a person anymore. I went and met taya Mimosa and she invited me to another show with the guarantee of a cute trans girl. So I thought it over , I'm single and I can actually choose my partner with it being solely to survive child support for the first time in 9 years . So I went , Patty is gorgeous but not single, I don't think she understood I'm looking for marriage not just yum yum fun. But a man named Derrick Daniels noticed me picking up money dressed professionally and mingling seamlessly with his performers and offered me a gig at 40$ a show to help. This number will change from sometimes 0 to other times 50. After 2 or 3 shows he told me there is yard work to be done, I'm not a stranger to yard work so of course 20$ helps stop my ex wife's icy grasp of looming death and imprisonment. I know he's an older gay man and I'm an idiot, I had asked taya before going to his house if it's safe, she told me it is. So I went and I did yard work , I did it fast and correctly with extra things done he didn't ask for yet. Then he wanted a movie then he was naked and then I left. But taya told him I'm not gay and the shows and yard work continued under extreme caution but I needed the money. During this time I started my first real search since Oregon to find a girl to marry. And living in this house I was fixing up, I might be human waste after child support but a free roof is a good bargain to put up with a broke loser. I met a couple girl and this is where it all falls apart. I'm told that by the way my dad didn't pay the bills we are losing the house, now my too good to be true moment finally arrived and again I'm with the librarian and about to be homeless but my perfect life in Washington is gone forever, that was 200$ rent , it's a great trade for content violence under child support rape. I meet Aria at a country bar for dancing, I don't dance but I need a way to defeat my ex wife so I saw Patty was with them and her friend pin (I was told she died but ?) this was a philippines trans woman living on a work visa in America or so I'm told. I moved in after 3 good dates and now I have this guy who's kinda fem? And married to a guy in another state. I was like oh no but I'm told a great story of a chance to finally destroy my ex wife's evil hold on every aspect of my life. There is a college educated friend who works as a hair dresser in the Philippines in Davao who will make all are dreams come true all I have to do is marry them , now looking back I might have made a mistake not doing this but this obese man with long hair was not trans as well , just some guy and I was not going to do it , and the more I understood the plan the less I felt it was in the name of justice and the betterment of all of the Philippines. It was this idea that a salon was a front company for some kind of insurance scam that was part of this pyramid where I'm second tear and they are at the top running this thing and I get people to join them under me to help facilitate the people who are paid on commission only to tell this insurance. This might have stopped my evil ex wife because if they own the company they just lie to dshs and tell them I make minimum wage when all I ever ask for is a place to sleep and time to dumpster hunt. I'd say half is trash food normally. Not all my life but most of child support is trash food half in Las Vegas and soon only trash and tj maxx snack handouts. But before I called of this plan I had all ready bought us tickets to meet his friend as well as rings that soon disappeared. I left that house to go live in the house the bank was taking, I started trying to find a Philippines girl for my Philippines flight. Now that dshs letter finally arrived and because of this balance due of 0$ appeared I was able to buy this ticket to the Philippines without risk of jail or passport revoked at airport. As well as this check from my grandma after she died that arria knew about and maybe why she knew to ask me about the whole trip . But I started talking to joedezza that sweet yum yum she's not trans but so cute I had to give it a try , my ex wife somehow was aware of this development, maybe she got an alert I got a ticket to the Philippines by dshs and those 2 masters of evil where plotting my imprisonment. But she told me to apply to this show called 90 day fiancé, I don't trust her at all but my only thought was I can't get her here alone I need help from someone else because of my ex wife's theft, so this show is the only answer, I applied and we were rejected. Then joedezza said she didn't plan on marrying me because of my ex wife anyways, but I had a plan , a ticket and I know I could do an act of pure good to save at least 1 person and change their life forever in the country I love more than anything. I found faith.

During this time I was still at TJ Maxx and working a drag show , but joedezza told me I needed to go to church to keep her impressed, I know most filipina are culturally invested in religion so I did , I had Jackie at work and we went to church together, she told me there's a nice lady who will "pay" me to to work for her in a gift shop down town. I of course saving for this trip needed every penny I could get. So I started this job and it was a joke. We sold mostly over priced t shirts with a rack of promo 4 for 10 shirts , with other Vegas themed things. It was a dirty forgotten dated abstract environment. But I agreed to 40 $ a day , that's how much my ex wife steals on average. And I was paid like 20% of what I'm owed per week because they don't sell and I'm told by Jackie she's good for the money as a church going Philippna I said ok, but there was this bank loan and a business partner in the future. But I was talking to faith and by the first week we had signed up for the show who needed more time to do phone interviews of me, her are family and friends. So they stated if you want to get on the show just buy another plane ticket... my TJ Maxx, drag show, gift shop and plasma money just gone. The new ticket bought and my time in Las Vegas as coming to an end because I bought my return ticket to Washington to try and convince my mom to help me and faith defeat my evil ex wife and do good deeds for justice. I was staying in the house that the bank will take soon and after that I only really had arria to live with as the librarians new boyfriend did not approve of me after kabobs.

One day at work the librarian called and said listen there's a BBQ at John's house and Jacob and taya will be there, I also had a philippines friend who I later found out is gay named Luther with us for this adventure. So in exchange for my monthly food budget I buy her meat for kabobs and she will feed me and her mom the rest of the month, by the way I'm now watching her mom and arrias dog while arria is in the Philippines with the ticket I paid for. I went to a great Middle Eastern market near are house and got chicken, lamb, bacon, pork chops, steak, shrimp, salmon and veggies with sticks as well as 6 different seasonings, I go home as requested and start to marinade these BBQ gifts, her boyfriend is appalled and offended that I would ever do such a thing and storms off to yell at the librarians elderly mom sitting in the corner. I just went to my room and worked out. If you read me and faiths chat logs i'm sure you'll read about this in real time. Now the librarian the next morning was looking at other things we could add to real jazz up the kabob self creation station we would set up, you stick things on a stick and cook it, simple? I guess not her boyfriend get all worked up again just as Luther arrived and took my meat to the party the librarian invited me to too. So we go and he kicks me out of the kitchen, Derek Daniels was also there and this lesbian comedian I'll meet at her job later. But he made the kobobs to his liking and didn't do a make your own style. Me and Luther got a long great. And that's it that's where the hostility started all from me being non-confrontational over meat I got as a gift to a friend. Like 200 in meat. I wanted bacon wrapped marinated lamb with red onion a zucchini, but nope. The bacon was still spicy and the lamb was mild curry. During this time frame I was still on the hunt for housing because my new plane ticket didn't match up with when the bank was taking the house anymore so when arria got back I moved back in and part of that was nightly blowjobs or sex. And faith was aware, I also met Wendy who said housing soon , and selesday, normina, Alexa. But only Wendy stuck around and I can't get hard for Wendy so she's a safe bet but she wasn't ready yet. So it was mostly jump from arria to librarian to , who ever while I waited for rlc to let me leave Las Vegas, I've sent a photo of Alexa to faith , she knows who she is and arrias id photo I took but I'm not going to sue arria, arria kept not paying bills or half of rent and this was devastating to my savings to see faith who I needed to help. Then it happened, rlc told me hey your in 100%!
